- At the top of the stairs, turn left at the small pagoda, the first left you come to.
- Continue along the catchwater to the paved road, head straight, and follow until the start of the trail for the Dragon's back (1.27km from the start of the road to this trail head and check point). This is in the direction of Shek O Road and the Round About which goes to Tai Tam. There will be a person here checking your number.
- Do a U-Turn at the checkpoint and head back to the end of the road towards Big Wave Bay Village. Stay to the left, and go back along the catchwater, but for only about 50m after the pagoda, and then turn RIGHT down the dirt trail, marked with a sign to Tai Long Wan village.
- Go to the bottom, through the village, and up to the car park, along the road all the way to Shek O, and at the Main Bus Stop, turn left in the FIRST little road you come to after the golf course. school yard, to the beach. You are done. You are able to run down either set of stairs, and also you can run through the finish line Arch from your direction (you do not need to run through it from the ocean-side).

Competitors can race the paddle leg solo, or they can join the world's only Trisolothon as a team with a swimmer and a runner. All competitors start at the same time (2:00pm), whether paddling, swimming or running. Team times are created by adding the times together with the other competitors on your team for their respective sport. This year's Trisolothon paddle course is 9.75 km long. There will be one support boat for the event, but please bring a mobile phone with you. We will provide you with some emergency numbers on the day. For emergency situations, please call Doug at 9020-3949.

- Boats can be kept at the Back Beach prior to the event and overnight (at the owner's risk, but usually all is okay there).

- You will need to get off your boat, and run (or walk) through the finish line gates in order to get your time.
- PLEASE land your boats to the LEFT of the big finish line arch. Also, watch for swimmers as you come in. They will be taking a line to the right of you when you come into the beach, but heading directly for the Finish Line arch.
